Personal Circumstances – Please advise of any social or domestic circumstances you think we should be aware of

Financial Information – Terms and Conditions

It is desirable for all money owed to King's High School to be paid at the time the expense is incurred. The school accepts however that this may not always be possible. Should alternative arrangements be necessary, approval from the Rector is required for an individual payment plan. To arrange this please contact the school by email office@kingshigh.school.nz or phone 455 7547.

Please note all extra-curricular activities are to be paid in full prior to the date of the event. Extra-curricular activities and uniform purchases cannot be charged to student accounts unless exceptional circumstances exist. Prior permission must be gained from the Rector for these items to be charged to a student account. Extra-curricular activities are defined as any activity that is not required by the curriculum. This may include but is not limited to such items as sports and sporting events, cultural activities, camps, uniform and equipment purchases.

All outstanding expenses are to be paid in full by the start of Term 4 each year. This does not apply to voluntary donations. However, these donations play an essential part in the effective running of the school.

Personal Information - Privacy Act (1993) and Health & Safety at Work Act (2015)

King's High School collects and keeps a large amount of personal information about each student.

The Privacy Act (1993) protects the information you give the school and details conditions under which personal information can be obtained, used, stored and exchanged with other interested parties. The school considers the privacy of this information to be important and has policies and procedures that reflect the Twelve Privacy Principles, as set out in the Act, to protect this information. The Health and Safety at Work Act (2015) enables relevant information to be disclosed to relevant parties in an emergency.

The school collects personal information from its students so that they can be enrolled, have their attendance and progress recorded, be entered for examinations, or be contacted by the school.

The school collects information about the caregivers of the student so that they may be informed of student progress or contacted by the school, and because the safety of the student is important.

Personal information may be disclosed to other education agencies, such as the Ministry of Education, the New Zealand Qualifications Authority and the Ministry of Social Development (MSD). Information is delivered to the MSD so young people, who may have difficulty finding future employment, training or further education can be identified and offered support by organisations contracted by MSD to help re-engage young people in education or training when they leave school. Government agencies, such as the New Zealand Police, will receive information if they demonstrate a statutory right to obtain it.

Personal information may be retained by the school after the student leaves in order for the school to maintain a list of past students. Personal information may also be disclosed to the King's High School Old Boys' Association, the King's High School Parent Teacher Student Association and the King's High School Charitable Trust to assist in compiling its membership register.

Under the Privacy Act (1993), students have the right of access to all personal information held by the school about them. They also have a right to ask the school to correct any information held which is inaccurate. That right can be exercised by applying to the school. Parents also have an obligation to advise the school if or when any of the personal information provided changes. If for any reason an enrolment is not accepted, this enrolment form will be destroyed.
